The Maplewood Voters Coalition invited all of the candidates for Maplewood City Council to a screening interview to choose and endorse the most qualified candidates. Here are our endorsed candidates:

Will Rossbach

Incumbent Rossbach will use his in-depth knowledge of the city to guide a coherent 'green' approach to managing redevelopment and restoring a commitment to our parks and other public lands. He is a business owner with 14 years experience on the Planning Commission and is endorsed by the DFL, AFSCME, the Saint Paul Trades and Labor Assembly and by Saint Paul Building and Construction. We strongly encourage you to vote to return his leadership to the Maplewood City Council. Contact Will at wbrossbach@comcast.net.

John Nephew

Look to John for specific proposals on improving city governance and creating an administration that works for the whole city and council. His concise and analytical style are sure to make council meetings worth attending as he applies his year-long study of the city to the issues we all face. John is endorsed by the DFL, AFSCME, the Saint Paul Trades and Labor Assembly, Progressive Majority and Saint Paul Building and Construction. Contact John at john@johnnephew.com.

James Moreno Llanas

Mr. Llanas aims to represent and engage all citizens in the governance of the city. We have come to know that when he says he will listen and consider each voice he means it. Public service to current and future residents is at the core of his agenda. James is an educational sales consultant with a Master's Degree from the University of Saint Thomas. Contact James at jimllanas@yahoo.com.

James G. Dykes

Mr. Dykes proposes to ensure the citizens of Maplewood are the driving force in defining solutions to Maplewood's needs. His over 25 years of experience in public employment, including Public Works Safety Manager with the City of Minneapolis, have included frequent interactions with the city council, giving him a clear understanding of the importance of creating a process for citizen participation and for professionalism.
